

Adopt a mission partner

Our priority at UFM Worldwide is to help churches identify, train, send and support their own workers for cross-cultural mission.

We understand that many churches have the heart to engage in cross-cultural mission but do not currently have candidates within their fellowship.

For churches who find themselves in such situations, there are opportunities to come alongside established UFM mission partners who are seeking support.

If you would like to partner with UFM for gospel progress, we'd be delighted to start a conversation about how you could adopt a mission partner and support cross-cultural mission sending.

“As a church we are deeply committed to supporting mission that promotes frontline Bible teaching. Having agreed a clear missions policy, but not recently in a position to send workers from our own fellowship, we sought out existing mission partners who are involved with this kind of ministry ...

... We wanted mission partners with whom we could build an ongoing relationship, rather than to whom we simply send occasional funding.

We have partnered with UFM mission partners for many years and more recently we agreed to 'adopt' another couple.

Developing relationships through UFM has made partnership easy and, with the help of UFM, communication is good. Their support of mission partners in regular prayer information has proved invaluable. They have very simple mechanisms for sending both regular and additional funding.”
